Dear Mr. Miller

As discussed in the information request sent to Macy's Inc., EPA is doing an investigation related to the Yosemite Slough Site located in San Francisco. The slough is contaminated with PCBs, lead, and other heavy metals. As part of this investigation, EPA is trying to determine where the contamination could have originated. While reviewing historical documents at the California Department of Toxic Substances Control's office, we located copies of manifests associated with your company which indicate a waste stream similar to the wastes located at the slough. The facility address was 200 Paul Ave., San Francisco, CA, a location in the general vicinity of the slough.

Many parties have received information requests in regard to this investigation. We appreciate your cooperation in responding to the request. According to our records, your response is due on Feb. 9th. Based upon a message you left me Friday, you anticipate that you will not be able to respond to the request within the 30 days. EPA is willing to grant a partial extension. Please submit what you have been able to locate by the 9th and supplement that response by the end of the month.

If you have further questions, you can contact me at this email address or at the phone number below.

Thank you,

Subject: Yosemite Creek Superfund Site

Dear Ms. Cox,

I'm writing to follow up on the voice mail message I left for you today. The 104(e) request dated January 9 and addressed to our Chief Executive Officer has been assigned to me to coordinate our response. The sources we are reviewing to prepare a response are not centralized, and we may not be able to provide a response before the due date of February 9. If we need additional time to respond I will let you know.

If EPA is aware of any information connecting Macy's specifically to the Site, or involving the property identified as 200 Paul Ave, San Francisco, CA, 94124, would it be possible for you to share it with me, or indicate how we could review it?

Thank you for your cooperation and assistance.

Sincerely,
Chuck Miller
